

Victory at a Glance 1995

Victoria, located in the south-east of the Australian continent, has a population of 4,541,003. Although it is the second most populous State or Territory in the country, Victoria is ranked sixth in terms of geographic size and accounts for only 3% of Australia's total area.

The capital city is Melbourne, with a population of 3,248,811. Its maximum average temperature ranges from 14.4°C in winter to 25.1°C in summer; its minimum average temperature ranges from 7°C in winter to 13.7°C in summer. Its average annual rainfall is 642mm.

This brochure provides only a snapshot of Victoria; more detail can be found in the variety of products released by the ABS, including the Victorian Year Book.

MORE INFORMATION

For more information on Victoria consult the 1997 Victorian Year Book now available from ABS Bookshops or by Subscription for only $35.00.

The Victorian Year Book is the ideal reference for school, home and work and covers a comprehensive range of social, demographic and economic topics, to provide a profile of the State.

Data is presented in both tabular and graphic format, together with analysis of the statistics. This year's feature article is on the Arts in Victoria. Other topics include climate and natural environment, our system of government, characteristics of the population, education, labour, health and welfare, crime and justice, commerce, trade, tourism and culture, finance, manufacturing, primary industries, housing and construction, and infrastructure.

Special articles in this edition have been provided by: the Department of Treasury and Finance, the University of Melbourne, the Australian Centre for Retail Studies, the Department of Natural Resources and Environment, and the Building Control Commission.

There is also a Historical Time Series of key Victorian statistics.

The Victorian Year Book has provided a gateway to information about Victoria since 1873 and continues to be an invaluable tool for students, libraries, administrators, those responsible for marketing products and in fact anyone looking for a definitive statistical reference on Victoria.
